PROPAGATION OF THE FAITH AUGUST 26 & 27

Archdiocese of Changanacherry, Kerala, India.

Father Tomy Joseph will speak at Mass on Aug. 26 & 27 on behalf of the Propagation of the Faith. In Kerala, India there are 3 orphanages which will benefit from this mission appeal.

They are: 1. The Asha Bhavan School, owned by the Archdiocese of Changanacherry, Kottayam in the state of Kerala, India was started in 1972 to provide education to children with mental disabilities, who are from poor families that cannot care for their children's development. They range from 5 to 42 years old. It is the only institution for these disabled children in this locality. The School needs to reinforce and modernize the infrastructural, educational & skill training facilities. It also needs to introduce Occupational Therapy as a vital support service..

2. St. Joseph's Boys' Home (Orphanage) at Puthusserry was established in 1930 and has been rendering commendable service to society by giving integral training to the children and rehabilitating them. At present there are 52 boys between 8 to 21 years old living there. This institution boards boys regardless of their cast, class and religion. They come from communities that are economically poor, socially neglected, strayed from families due to family breakdown and alcoholism.

3. St. Alphonsa Snehanivas, the Home for Street Children, was established in 1995. The history of Snehanivas bears witness to the selfless and committed service of the Archdiocese and the congregation of the Sisters of Destitute in rendering formation for street children. At present, there are 15 boys who have no one to look after them and who have no place to live.

These institutions provide comfortable shelter, healthy food and oversee excellence in education. They give spiritual, emotional and psychological support so that they can grow as responsible citizens and then contribute to their own community. Unfortunately, we get no substantial financial support from the Government or other state organizations. In fact, we depend on the generous support of the good people from the locality and from abroad.
